the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a vision for the future of mental health care, which includes a commitment to 'improving the lives of people with mental health problems'. This vision is based on the principles of recovery, which focuses on the individual's strengths and abilities, rather than on their diagnosis. Recovery is a process, and it is not always linear. It involves a range of factors, including social support, access to services, and a sense of purpose and meaning in life.

One of the key challenges in the recovery process is the need to address the social and environmental factors that can contribute to mental health problems. This includes issues such as poverty, homelessness, and social isolation. These factors can often be more difficult to address than the medical aspects of a mental health problem. However, they are crucial to the overall recovery process, and they need to be taken into account in any plan for recovery.

Another key challenge is the need to ensure that people with mental health problems have access to the services they need. This includes access to mental health services, as well as access to social and community services. There are a number of barriers to access, including financial barriers, geographical barriers, and barriers related to stigma and discrimination. These barriers need to be addressed in order to ensure that people with mental health problems can access the services they need.

One of the ways in which these barriers can be addressed is through the use of recovery-oriented services. These services are designed to support the recovery process, and they focus on the individual's strengths and abilities. They also take into account the social and environmental factors that can contribute to mental health problems. Recovery-oriented services can be provided in a range of settings, including community centres, libraries, and places of worship.

Another way in which these barriers can be addressed is through the use of peer support. Peer support involves people with mental health problems helping each other. This can be done in a number of ways, including through support groups, peer-led services, and peer education. Peer support can be a very effective way of addressing the barriers to recovery, and it can also help to reduce the stigma and discrimination that people with mental health problems often experience.

There are a number of other factors that can contribute to the recovery process, including access to education and employment, and access to housing. These factors are all important, and they need to be taken into account in any plan for recovery. The recovery process is a complex one, and it involves a range of factors. However, by addressing the social and environmental factors that can contribute to mental health problems, and by ensuring that people with mental health problems have access to the services they need, we can help to improve the lives of people with mental health problems.

Our school and our home and our guide to success

We'll remember with joy every day that we knew

When we lived with the spirit of you.

You have guided us all in the days of our youth;

You have taught us to walk in the ways of the truth;

We have learned to be loyal, courageous and true,

And to love in the spirit of you.

Though the years will go by and we're far, far away,

We will never forget this, our vow of today,

All through this life in each thing that we do,

We will live in the spirit of you.

Mr. Lincoln D. Lynch

Dedication

Our Superintendent of Schools is a "Big" man – big in stature, big in heart, and big in character; but perhaps the biggest thing about him is his capacity to make others feel big.

Since he has been a part of our school system, he has done much to stimulate the spirit of Middleboro.

We, the class of 1970, therefore proudly dedicate our yearbook to you, Mr. Lincoln D. Lynch.

Timaron

Staff

The young men and women who agree to accept the responsibility of publishing a yearbook soon become subject not only to the many frustrations often associated with this activity, but to the pressures of meeting deadlines; and even when we are well-staffed, the task is at best difficult.

Many are well-intentioned, but they soon give way to the exigencies of personal desires and academics, and to the general stresses of yearbooking. The result is that a small nucleus is called upon to accept frightful and weighty responsibilities. When the initial shock wears off they nod in the affirmative and willingly give of themselves.

On seemingly endless week nights and Saturdays they drink gallons of coffee and soft drinks, and eat chains of doughnuts and hamburgers while planning layouts, typing copy, producing artwork, sorting and cropping photographs, and mathematically proportioning prints so that they will fill the designated areas. For their unselfish dedication and self-discipline I commend: Julie Burke, Barry King, Francine Freitag, David MacLeod, Nell McNeil, and Jacqueline Shaw. I am most grateful; you should be too.

FACULTY MESSAGE

The chess board is the world, the pieces are the phenomena of the Universe, the rules of the game are what we call the laws of Nature. The player on the other side is hidden from us. We know that his play is always fair, just, and patient. But also we know, to our cost, that he never looks a mistake, or makes the smallest allowance for ignorance.

INVOCATION

*HYMN There's A Wideness In God's Mercy

There's a wideness in God's mercy,
Like the wideness of the sea;
There's a kindness in His justice,
Which is more than liberty.

There is no place where earth's sorrows
Are more felt than up in heaven;
There is no place where earth's failings
Have such kindly judgment given.

For the love of God is broader
Than the measure of man's mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind.

If our love were but more simple,
We should take Him at His word;
And our lives would be all sunshine
In the sweetness of our Lord. Amen.

SCRIPTURE Reverend Paul E. Lauffer
North Congregational Church,
United Church of Christ
(to be read responsively) I Corinthians 13

If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels,
but have not love,
I am a noisy gong or a clanging cymbal.

If I have prophetic powers and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love,
I am nothing.

If I give away all I have, and if I deliver my body to be burned,
but have not love,
I gain nothing.

Love is patient and kind;
Love is not jealous or boastful;
It is not arrogant or rude.
*Love does not insist on its own way;
It is not irritable or resentful;
It does not rejoice at wrong.*

Love bears all things, believes all things,
hopes all things, endures all things.
Love never ends.

As for prophesy,
It will pass away;

As for tongues,
They will cease;

As for knowledge,
It will pass away.

For our knowledge is imperfect and our prophesy is imperfect; but when the perfect comes, the imperfect will pass away.

When I was a child, I spoke like a child, I thought like a child, I reasoned like a child;
when I became a man, I gave up childish ways.

For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face.

Now I know in part;
*Then I shall understand fully, even as I have

So faith, hope, love abide, these three;
BUT THE GREATEST OF THESE IS LOVE.

*HYMN Through All the Changing Scenes

Through all the changing scenes of life,
In trouble and in joy,
The praises of my God shall still
My heart and tongue employ.

Oh magnify the Lord with me,
With me exalt His name;
When in distress to Him I called,
He to my rescue came.

Oh make but trial of His love;
Experience will decide,
How blest are they, and only they,
Who in His truth confide.

Fear Him, ye saints and you will then
Have nothing else to fear;
Make you His service your delight,
He'll make your wants His care.

Whip's Quips

I'm as happy as a clam.

I'm crying crocodile tears.

Panickity

Know it till it comes out both ears.

Here's a little cheery quiz.

Thanks to old Dutch Cleanser the little Dutch girl had a nice blue dress.

Your brain has been crooked starting from the time you chose between carrots and spinach.

When Zsa Zsa Gabor tells you what to do in Vietman, you don't listen to her.

Look at yourself as though you're someone else.

You'd better not say it out loud.

Don't believe a thing I tell you.

Learn to read with two eyes open and one in the middle.

I suppose you think I have some funny ideas.

When you wiggle I think I'm going to fast.

They are oodles bigger.

Yippy hoola!!!

Bingo! your head might come off!

His army evaporated – Kris plunko!

It's ultra ultra secret.

He's still alive and kicking.

We are in a nice pickle.

All this stuff-a-ma-jig is due Thursday.

That's not to be sneezed at.

This seems like hash today.

Get it in your old beano!

I don't know whose toes I'm stepping on so I'll go ahead and step.

You know that feeling that goes up your spine.

I have to let you graduate in June, so keep plugging along.

There are just 180 days left to fool around with.

I have to toot my own horn.

Those were the movies my mother wouldn't let me go to.

I'm some kind of an ogre.

We're attacking this wrong end round.

I hope nobody gets into my little secret closet in the cellar.

Don't tell anyone I don't know what I'm doing.

That would be just ducky.

I've got some beautiful blushes.

I sound like an old meanie.

Shoot fast or don't shoot at all.

Didn't that hit you between the eyes?

Isn't it naughty?

That's one grand jumble of information.
I'll hurt your feelings by saying that's not how you say U Thant.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Be partisan with limit.
Life as a shaft runs imbued with the self.
Stricture of the lateral becomes a ligature on the thought.
For omniscience, even to a degree, interchange is requisite.
If satiety is worthy cause, harken
to the words of Markham, words that transcend the temporal:
"He drew a circle that shut me out
Heretic, rebel, a thing to flout.
But love and I had the wit to win;
We drew a circle that took him
in."

Kenneth L. Johnson

Confidence, Conviction, Courage, Determination, Enthusiasm, Foresight – All serve to characterize the leadership of our Principal who has indeed had: the courage to accept with confidence and enthusiasm the numerous challenges that arise when one must administer with regard to the welfare of faculty and student body, the conviction to stand firm whenever necessary, the foresight to plan the very best in education for his community, and the determination to make those plans a reality.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

It Couldn't Be Done
Somebody said that it couldn't be done,
But he with a chuckle replied
That "maybe it couldn't," but he would be one
Who wouldn't say so till he'd tried.
So he buckled right in with a trace of a grin
On his face. If he worried he hid it.
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done, and he did it.

Sombody scoffed: "Oh you'll never do that;
At least no ever has done it;"
But he took off his coat and he took off his hat,
And the first thing we knew he'd begun it.
With a lift of his chin and a bit of a grin,
Without any doubting or quiddit,
He started to sing as he tackled the thing
That couldn't be done and he did it.

There are thousands to tell you it cannot be done,
There are thousands to prophesy failure;
There are thousands to point out to you, one by one,
The dangers that wait to assail you.
But just buckle in with a bit of a grin,
Just take off your coat and go to it;
Just start to sing as you tackle the thing
That "cannot be done," and you'll do it.

Edgar A. Guest

Busy . . . Busy . . . Busy is the keynote here. These dedicated citizens of Middleboro have assumed the responsibility of school administration in accordance with the requirements of their community and the State Board of Education.
Working closely with Superintendent Lincoln D. Lynch, they formulate and carry out school policy. Their work is challenging and because they are public servants they sometimes find themselves subject to criticism, but they have responded to the needs of their youth; the demands are great, but their satisfactions are greater.

Our Vice-Principal has many duties and responsibilities, but his primary tasks are discipline, and attendance. Last but certainly not least, he serves in the important role of advisor to the senior class. He is responsible for the fiscal management of Timaron, the Senior Class Play, and due collections; and he aids too in graduation exercises. He may be best known for his roll as the chief mentor of discipline, but he is loved by all and we are grateful for his help.

VICE-PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

I would remind you – in the words of Stephen Vincent Benet – to:

“Take great burdens and bear them well, Believe in God but do not preach too much, Believe and follow duty first and last with marvelous consistancy and force, be a great victor, in defeat as great, No more or less, Always yourself in both.”

Joseph L. King

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MESSAGE

Resolve to perform what you ought.
Perform without fail what you resolve.

Guidance

MISS MARCELLA MASTRODONATO

Although a newcomer to M.H.S. Miss Mastrodonato's warm smile and willingness to help have made her welcome in our school. Not only have we benefited from her academic guidance but she has taught us the meaning of devotion and friendship.

As our Guidance Director, Mr. Alfred Farley has proven himself an aid to us, the class of 1970. His quick sense of humor and smiling face have made him an asset to our school. For all his encouragement and help, we are grateful.

MR. ALFRED FARLEY

Secretarial Staff

When a teacher needs assistance . . . When a student needs someone other than faculty or administration to befriend and advise him, or carefully schemes to enmesh some unsuspecting adult in his school activities . . . When one must know what is happening and why, who is supposed to be where and when, or simply where something is . . . what does one do?

He plants his feet firmly, cups hands to mouth and cries lustily, "Mrs. Kraus!" "Miss Veazie!" "Miss Bernabeo?"

...Thanks Cathy K. Turner for months of advice and encouragement & making 1/2 the buffet!
...and to Mary Heinig Strout for her last minute assistance with final buffet preparation.
...Lynn Jeffery Specialty Cakes for a delicious and delightful 50th birthday cake!
...those who donated goods for the raffle: Mavis Lemmo John Lopes Carolynn Levy

...Lloyd Mendes for declining the winnings from the raffle! We have a kitty for the future!
...the enthusiastic supporters who encouraged us to continue even if only a dozen responded..

...to Scott Brady for manning the kitchen and seeing that everything turned out just right.

Happy 50th Birthday!

To my fellow classmates on the celebration of our half century marks!
Sharon Jewell Jeffery

We're 50 years old!
It hardly seems true.
I still feel quite young and I'll bet you do too.

But wrinkles have started and middle age spread!
My energy's sagging.
There's gray on my head.

But inside our brains
we're reckless young teens
with loads of ambition,
goals, hopes, and dreams.

Where did the time go?
The years in between 1970 and right now, I mean?

They mention reunions
And fears start to rise!
Am I old? Am I ugly
when viewed through their eyes?

Do cliques still exist?
Are there groups I'm not in?
Will others remember me or know where I've been?

College or work place?
Good times or bad?
Divorce or long marriage?
Any children we had?

Teen insecurity,
low self-esteem
resurface in nightmares
'til I want to scream.

Then I remember-
Hey, they're old like me!
And time and maturity
bring humility.

So, welcome tonight!
We're glad you could stay.
Greet lots of old friends
And, oh yeah, Happy Birthday!
